Setting up a web hosting business is simple, inexpensive, and extremely profitable.

The webhosting industry is not only widely recognized as an extremely lucrative and profitable business, but it is also rapidly expanding.

With this in mind, it would make sense for any astute businessperson to seize a piece of this massive, multi-million dollar pie.

Particularly when one considers not only how simple it is to set up, establish, and manage, but also how inexpensive it is to run.

In fact, you'd be surprised at how cheap a professional reseller web hosting package is and how much you get in terms of functionality, tools, resources, and features.

What technical skills will you require to run this company?

Well, it is quite simple to begin profiting from this genuine opportunity without even getting your hands dirty.

In other words, you won't have to be concerned about the cost of servers or their upkeep. In fact, you won't need any technical knowledge at all.

As a reseller, you can rely on the primary web host to handle all of these concerns.

Furthermore, if you select a reputable and well-established webhosting company, you will be able to provide not only a professional and completely dependable service (which is far from a given in the hosting industry), but also a slew of features that your clients will require for their online web presence.

What about customer administration and billing?

An established hosting company will also give you the ability to create your own hosting packages and pricing to promote to your market and web hosting clients.

You will also be given software and the ability to automatically invoice your clients with your own branding - the administration of running this business will be almost non-existent because the functionality and automation provided by the reseller webhosting company will take care of everything.

What Does It Cost to Become a Hosting Reseller?

The clincher is that all of the above can be obtained from a completely dependable primary webhosting company for less than $25.00 per month.

This will allow you to host an unlimited number of domains (customers), as well as provide you with all of the functionality needed to run your own virtual webhosting business.

This, in my opinion, is a genuine opportunity for anyone looking to establish a viable online business that can easily be run from home in your spare time or as a full-time endeavor.
